

VERONICA ASWANI

Vice President

The African Association for Vertical Farming

Veronica Shangali-Aswani is a seasoned Social Entrepreneur, with over 10 years working at the Base Pyramid space in Africa. She is the Vice President of The African Association for Vertical farming (AAVF), Co Founder & CEO of a Social Enterprise Wavunow. She is also part of African Women in Agriculture (AWiA) as the Stakeholder Relations Director.

Veronica is passionate about addressing societal imbalances through economic participation by community members. She is actively involved in identifying African Urban Farming Smart solutions that can suit small holder farmers in Urban Africa and sits in various committees around Land Reforms and Urban Farming.

For over 15 years, she has also worked in various multi nations around Business Development, Operations, Commodities and Real Estate. She is a Cum Laude Degree holder and on Dean's List.